Investigation continues

GRANITE CITY — The Major Case Squad of Greater St. Louis will likely end its investigation today into the murders of Carl and Susan Hoffman and the shooting of Jack G. Bruce.

An arrest has not been made in the case and there are still no suspects. Police Chief Bill Harris said state and county police will continue to assist Granite City police in the investigation.

The case squad was activated last Thursday to assist in the Hoffman murders, Harris said.

The murder last night of Charles C. Parker, 27, of 2223 Edison Ave. is not related to the Hoffman murders, Harris said.

The squad was to assist for five days, but received a three day extension Monday. That extension expires today.

No foul play is suspected in the fire, said Police Chief Bill Harris.

Cigarette cause of fire, death

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A Granite City man died Wednesday night in a fire at his home.

Granite City police arrived at Mr. Parker's house at 10:15 p.m. and reported seeing heavy smoke coming from the living room.

Officers gained entry to the home by using an access key given to them by a friend of Mr. Parker.

Police observed smoke inside the entire house. The fire was in the living room.

Police searched the home on hands and knees due to the heavy smoke. He was found lying on a bed in the back area of the house. Police took him to the front yard and the coroner was called.

The cause of the fire is believed to be a cigarette dropped earlier yesterday in an overstuffed chair in the living room of the house. The fire smoldered in the chair and then burned through the floor to the basement.

No foul play is suspected in the fire, said Police Chief Bill Harris.

Liquor license granted to food store by mayor

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — Reversing past city practice, a liquor license was granted Monday to National Super Market by Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

The decision surprised several aldermen.

"I'll be damned; he finally done it," said 5th Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey. "What's the other stores going to say about it?"

CITY POLICY has been not to grant liquor licenses to food stores. Churches and package liquor store operators have argued against allowing licenses to food stores, 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer said.

"Now he's (Cruse) going to give it to someone without any advance notice whatsoever," Whitmer said.

The people should have been given time to voice concern about the move before it happened, 1st Ward Alderman Casimir Skubish said.

"WE'VE GOT ENOUGH liquor available for all the people," said Skubish. "We don't need it in the supermarkets."

The matter was not discussed during Tuesday's City Council meeting, but representatives of Walgreen Drug Store, Schnuck's Market and Gasen-Super X Drugs questioned Cruse afterward.

"For one supermarket in town to have it and the other three in town not to have it is a real competitive disadvantage," said Dan Hartman, a Schnuck's representative.

'WHERE do you draw the line?' Von Dee Cruse

CRUSE SAID HE FAVORS letting the other stores have liquor licenses because they should have the same right to compete, but the city has only 15 package liquor licenses.

When Sports Tap, 916 Niedringhaus Ave., gave up its license, the license went to National because that store was first to formally request one, Cruse said.

National and Schnuck's both made liquor applications on June 6, 1985, but National's was first, Cruse said. Schnuck's is next on the list for a license, he said.

ALSO ON THE LIST for package liquor licenses are 7-Eleven, Farm Fresh, Cohen's Foods and Walgreen.

Prior to the council meeting, Cruse said he opposed having liquor stores on every corner, but disagreed with the restriction of 15 licenses imposed by the City Council.

He said another method of handling licenses could be on a sales volume basis.

Concerning current package liquor outlets that could lose business if the restrictions were loosened, Cruse said their attitude does not mesh with the free enterprise concept.

"WHERE DO YOU DRAW the line?" he asked. "What if somebody says we've got enough grocery stores, fast food stores, you don't need more banks, there's enough paint stores, there's enough of everything?"

Concerning past opposition of some churches, Cruse said the issue is economic.

"I appreciate the churches' concern, but this is not a religious issue. This is a free enterprise issue. It's a right to do business. It's who has the right to sell," Cruse said.

THE CITY COUNCIL set the number of liquor licenses at 15 and, though he would like to grant more licenses, the council has the power to keep the lid on, he said.

"It's up to the council to make the laws," he said.

As the city's liquor commissioner, the mayor has the right to grant liquor licenses so long as all criteria are met and the number of licenses provided by the City Council is not exceeded.

Stevenson stumps with trio of true Democrats

By David Gosnell

CAHOKIA — A "trio" of "true" Democrats launched their unusual bid for state offices this week at St. Louis Downtown-Parks Airport.

"We are running as independents but we're on the Democratic team," said gubernatorial candidate Adlai Stevenson at his stop at the airport to announce his independent candidacy.

Stevenson won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the March primary. But he felt compelled to run as an independent after two supporters of an extremist organization headed by perennial presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche won Democratic nominations as candidates for secretary of state and lieutenant governor.

The LaRouche supporters beat mainline Democrats running for the positions.

If he had not resigned as a Democratic candidate, Stevenson would have had to run as a partner with LaRouche-supporter Mark Fairchild, who won the lieutenant governor nomination.

Stevenson introduced his running mate picks, Cook County judge Michael Howlett Jr., 37, of Chicago, for lieutenant governor and DuPage County Board member Jane Spiguel for secretary of state.

The chairman of the Illinois Democratic Central Committee, state Sen. Vince Demuzio, state Sen. Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis, and Cahokia Mayor Michael King appeared with the three candidates as a show of party support for the independent candidates.

Howlett gave up his Cook County associate judgeship, an elected position, to run with Stevenson. The gubernatorial candidate's stand on not running with the LaRouche candidates and the challenge facing state Democrats this year justified giving up the judgeship to run, Howlett said.

"The decision (to run) was an easy one to make. I do so without any sense of risk because I am confident that Adlai Stevenson will lead this ticket to victory," said Howlett.

Howlett views the LaRouche candidates as a threat that must be confronted.

"The election of the two LaRouche followers... is a fluke. But they are no joke. They represent a threat," Howlett said.

Howlett is the son of past Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael Howlett.

Third murder in two weeks in Granite City

GRANITE CITY — Another murder was committed in the city late Wednesday night.

Charles C. Parker, 27, of 2223 Edison Ave. was stabbed last night at 2434 Ohio Ave. He was pronounced dead at 11:36 p.m. by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell.

Parker was stabbed twice in his chest, a police report said.

Police and emergency medical technicians were dispatched at 10:38 p.m. Wednesday. When they arrived, they found Parker lying face up on a bedroom floor.

A large pool of blood was found near the left side of Parker's body.

EMT's tried to revive Parker, but he later died of the wounds.

Parker's wife, Lori, 27, said he went to the evidence to get a package of cigarettes from David K. Patterson.

"All I know is basically he went in and was trying to get his cigarettes from inside there," she said.

Several people were in the home at the time of the stabbing, including Parker's brother, Bobby, of the 2100 block of Bryan Avenue. Bobby and the others were taken outside of the home and later went to the Granite City police station.

Police are holding a suspect in the case.

The incident is apparently unrelated to the Hoffman murders.

District 9 joins pool

GRANITE CITY — District 9 became the fourth school system to join a Metro East insurance co-operative Tuesday night.

The co-op will decrease district exposure to high deductible payments on claims, said Norm Owca, finance director. Coverage will become effective July 1.

Already part of the co-op are

Alton, Edwardsville and the Wood River High School district.

Currently, District 9 property damage deductible is $50,000 per occurrence; liability deductibles are $100,000 through a self-insurance program under the London package offered by Lloyd's of London.

Granite City aldermen defer Laidlaw contract

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Action was deferred Tuesday by the City Council on the renewal of a three-year contract with Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. for the city's trash collection and sludge dumping.

The city's present contract with Laidlaw will expire June 30, said 5th Ward Alderman Jake Varadjan, chairman of the council's sanitation and inspection committee.

Varadjan told the aldermen his committee had met several times before Tuesday's meeting and was in favor of renewal.

VARADJAN SAID Laidlaw's fee would be $252 less per month after June 30 because payment for a ramp built by Laidlaw behind the street department would be paid off.

The ramp was constructed so trucks could drive up to the dumpsters, Varadjan said. Laidlaw agreed to build the ramp three years ago when the contract went into effect.

He also told the council Laidlaw would not raise the costs for the first year the contract is renewed. Costs would rise 5 percent the second year, and another 5 percent the third year. The cost of the trash collection is approximately $600,000 a year. The cost for sludge dumping is about $100,000.

Varadjan said the charge for sludge dumping is less expensive by Laidlaw than other companies. Laidlaw charges $4.41 per cubic yard for sludge disposal. Costs ranged from $30-22 per cubic yard when bids were taken three years ago, he said.

"PROBABLY THROUGH competitive bidding we'd get our trash removal at a lower rate," Varadjan said, "but the sludge would be very expensive."

The council also discussed the dumping of sludge at Laidlaw's land in Belleville since the St. Clair County Board passed an ordinance prohibiting dumping in that county.

"What the county is doing is superseding state law," said Mike Patitucci, regional vice president of Laidlaw.

He said if the sludge had to be dumped in another location other than the Belleville landfill, Laidlaw would bear the extra expense.

"ALL THE RISK on the sludge is on Laidlaw," Patitucci said.

The city is still dumping its sludge in the Laidlaw landfill after receiving an extension from St. Clair County.

"I think we have a pretty good guarantee on our sludge," said 3rd Ward Alderman Paul Flisk. "Everybody will take our trash but few will take our sludge."

Some of the aldermen, however, were reluctant to make a decision to renew the contract.

"I don't think we should vote on this until we read it," said 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen.

"I THINK IT'S unfair to bring this before the council without prior notice," said 6th Ward Alderman Woody Moad.

Others thought bids for the contract should be taken.

"That's how Laidlaw got this contract — through competitive bidding," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer. "The taxpayers should get a fair shake for their money."

Varadjan said two provisions will be included if the contract is renewed. One would let the city dispose of its sludge here when the incinerator at the sewage treatment plant becomes operable. The other provision would let the city dispose of its trash if a furnace for trash burning is constructed in the future.

Third Ward Alderman Brett Hanke moved to renew the contract, contingent on recommendations from City Attorney Mark Goldenberg. However, Hanke's motion was deferred by 2nd Ward Alderman Fred "Fat" Schuman Jr.

Lions Club bike-a-thon

On Saturday, May 10, the Pontoon Beach Lions Club will participate in a symbolic "Journey for Sight" to aid in the fight against diabetes. Chairman Eddie Graham said, "Diabetes is now the number one cause of blindness in the world."

Since its founding in 1917, Lions International has become the world's largest service club organization, with more than 1.3 million members in 156 countries and geographical areas, and it has become widely known for its sight programs.

Clubs operate or support most of the world's eye banks, dog guide training schools, eye research centers and vocational training centers. In addition, Lions clubs provide many services directly to individuals in their own communities.

The members of the Pontoon Beach Lions, Lionsess and Leo clubs, along with their friends and families, will ride or walk in a bike-a-thon along old Poag Road. The ride will be for 20 kilometers, starting and ending at Mitchell School. The midway point will be the SIUE campus.

The group will be asking people to support riders and walkers either by pledging a nominal amount of money for each mile they ride or by actually riding in the bike-a-thon. This is not a race against time.

There will be a meal for all participants, served at the Lions Club immediately after the bike-a-thon. Persons interested in helping the Lions by riding or becoming pledgers are being asked to be at Mitchell School at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Barge traffic resumes after wall collapse

Barge traffic on the Mississippi River resumed at 8:40 a.m. Saturday after the collapse of a deflector wall — protecting the construction site at the new Lock and Dam 26 — forced closure of the river Friday.

About 1,000 tons of limestone rock were dumped beside the broken deflector wall Friday in an attempt to reinforce the structure.

A boat carrying sonar equipment was ordered to the area to ensure the channel was clear.

Repair of the deflector wall, which broke Thursday, was expected to take several days.

A number of truckloads of rock were dumped along the cofferdam, and workers toiled around the clock to rebuild the wall.

Engineers are seeking to prevent further damage.

Jim Bissell, resident engineer at the project, said workers are attempting to prevent a scour hole that could threaten the integrity of the cofferdam, the structure that protects the work site while the massive federal construction project is underway.

He said the cause of the break is unknown, and engineers are still investigating. The structure fell toward the Illinois side of the river, he said.

Clyde Wilkes, chief of public affairs for the project, said some sheet pile will be added to the remaining beam structures which were not damaged.

The sheet pile will be added to the Missouri side of the structure, opposite the side which gave way.

The deflector wall is attached to the cofferdam and extends upstream. It is designed to prevent floating objects, such as runaway barges, from striking the cofferdam.

Contractors moved equipment from the work site as a precautionary measure, although the integrity of the cofferdam is not in danger, said Bissell.

Bissell anticipates only a slight delay in construction of the dam and lock.

Ambulance in collision here

GRANITE CITY — A Madison Fire Department ambulance was involved in an accident with an automobile at Lee and 21st streets at 5:08 p.m. Sunday, May 4.

The driver of the ambulance, Assistant Fire Chief Robert L. Robbins, of 1702 Kennedy Drive, Madison, was westbound on 21st on an emergency run, transporting an auto accident victim to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

As he approached Lee, a car driven by Pamela S. Krieh, 33, of Clayton turned left into the intersection and the two vehicles collided.

The patient, Willie Brown of St. Louis, did not receive further injury due to the accident, it was determined. He later died as a result of injuries he sustained after being hit by a motorcycle on Bend Road.

Two Madison emergency medical technicians, Fred P.

Finazzo of 1720 Kennedy Drive and Kevin Sipes of 1607 Fourth St., were not seriously injured in the mishap.

Krieh was charged by Granite City police with failure to yield the right-of-way to an authorized emergency vehicle.

Mr. Brown, 85, of 6339 Page Blvd. was pronounced dead at 5:38 p.m. at SEMC. The site of the crash was in St. Clair County.

The motorcyclist, Mark L. Sherman, 24, Edwardsville, was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, and then transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital, Alton, with critical head injuries.

The mishap occurred at Bend Road and Eagle Park Road. The motorcycle was eastbound on Bend road. Authorities said they assumed Mr. Brown was walking across the road at the time the cycle approached.

State funds sought for water line, other work

By Donna Kimbro
Staff writer

MADISON — Application to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs for $279,975 in grants or low-interest loans was approved by city aldermen Tuesday night.

The funds would be used to install water lines to serve annexed properties, extending to the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza. Money also would go to improve facilities in the East Madison area and to continue economic development in the city's Stephen Maeras Industrial Park.

INSTALLATION of curbs, gutters and sidewalks on Harris, Farish, McCasland, Meridian and Summit streets also would be included in the project if funds are approved. The request for grants is for the 1986-87 and 1987-88 years.

Richard Tutka, city comptroller, said the monies also would be used for work on the lift station in the industrial park. Preliminary plans are being discussed with engineers for this work.

Funds would be utilized for the long-awaited water line from the Bend Road area to the truck stop vicinity, if grants are awarded to the city, officials said.

COUNCIL MEMBERS agreed to employ Metro-East Municipal Services and Illinois Codification Services of Freeburg to update the Madison city ordinances filing system at a cost of $3,250.

A long-standing complaint of city officials is that ordinances have not been in any type of numerical or departmental order, making references to a specific document nearly impossible.

The Freeburg company will, under the supervision of the city attorney, classify, edit and codify the ordinances of general and permanent nature, as passed in final form by the city.

The company will print the text and index of the city code and bind copies of the completed code in mechanical binders. A cross-reference index will simplify finding a particular city law.

PAYMENT FOR THE WORK will be made in four installments of $800 each. Previous estimates for the had ranged from $6,000 to $10,000.

Interim Police Chief Charles Bridick asked the council to have a separate code book prepared for the police department, specifically dealing with vehicle ordinances or any other documents relating to the police department and its duties.

Bill would bar roadblocks to check seatbelts

Police would be restricted from setting up roadblocks to enforce the state's mandatory seatbelt law under legislation endorsed by an Illinois Senate Committee May 1.

The seatbelt law went into effect last July 1.

On a 7-1 vote, the Senate Transportation Committee sent on to the full Senate the measure specifying "secondary" enforcement of the seatbelt bill.

Sponsor Sen. Frank Watson, R-Greenview, argued secondary enforcement had been the stated intent of the sponsor of the seatbelt bill during floor debate in 1984, although it had not been specified in the law.

"In some areas of the state, local law enforcement has been setting out roadblocks and checking for seatbelt violations. We do not want traffic stops set up," Watson said.

Eyeglasses drive in May

"Good eyesight is important because it allows us to view our world with clarity and focus. Yet, millions of underprivileged people with poor eyesight in the U.S. and other countries live in a world out of focus because they cannot afford a pair of eye glasses," a spokesman at Thomas Mortuaries is pointing out.

Thomas Mortuaries, in conjunction with the area Lions clubs, is designating May as "Eyes for the Future" eyeglasses drive month.

People can donate old eyeglasses at the mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., or Lachy-Sedlack Funeral Home, 60 Madison Ave., Madison, from a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

The contributions will be sent to the Illinois Lions Club Foundation, which will distribute them to the needy nationwide and overseas. Liz Neely, public relations officer for the mortuaries, said, adding: "Our eyes are important to us and it is important to help preserve the eyesight of those less fortunate than ourselves. Drop your old eyeglasses in one of our collection boxes and have a free cup of coffee. Information on the drive is available by calling 876-4321."

A sober look at liquor licenses

Supermarkets have been bottled-up by the rule that there should be only 15 package liquor licenses in the city.

Former liquor commissioners kept a tight lid on licenses to supermarkets.

But that was before Mayor Von Dee Cruse started tending bar as the city's liquor commissioner.

When National Super Market was first in line to place their order, Cruse popped the cork on food store liquor sales by granting them the next available permit.

By being fair to the first store in line, an unfair situation was poured out for the city's other supermarkets. When a major food store representative went to Cruse Tuesday night to request a license, the mayor couldn't quench the thirst.

The drought isn't Cruse's creation. There was only one license and National, being first in line, deserved it.

The lid on licenses is what's keeping the other supermarkets dry.

National has a competitive edge because the mayor cannot give other major food stores a liquor permit. The City Council allows only 15 and none are available.

How the other supermarkets react is anyone's guess. But the rule that keeps them from selling liquor is a bitter draft. A challenge wouldn't be surprising.

The City Council has a choice to make.

It can salute letting other major grocery stores have licenses as is the case in every other major community, or it can allow one grocery store the almost monopolistic right to waste the community's whistles.

The next round is the council's.

Public Forum daring proposition

Talking directly to a grassroots-level crowd is a daring proposition for civic leaders.

Aldermen who hold ward meetings know some questions asked in a public forum can be embarrassing, unanswerable and/or antagonistic.

But such forums are worthwhile because they provide responsible members of the public with a chance to bypass the bureaucracy to get to someone with questions that deserve answers.

Ward meetings are a good idea because they bring government to where it belongs — to the people. The aldermen who participate in such meetings deserve credit for holding themselves directly accountable to their fellow citizens.

A step beyond ward meetings is the Granite City Public Forum that will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

At the forum, every person in every ward in the city can express their views. There is no agenda, meaning there will be spontaneity in discussions, and several civic leaders, including Mayor Von Dee Cruse, have said they will attend.

There will be some tough questions the public will want answered:

• When will there be a resolution to water flooding into basements?

• Why is the proposed downtown shopping center any more likely to work this time than in the past?

• What does the city mean by closer cooperation with Pontoon Beach and Nantook Township?

These and other questions, perhaps as down to earth as what to do about a hard-drinking, loud-mouthed neighbor, are the type that will be asked tonight.

Cruse admits some of the questions that might be asked will be hard to answer, but he said the role of a civic leader includes being accountable to the public and being available for their questions and criticisms.

Perhaps he may wind up in the lion's den this evening over some of the things done during his administration, but Cruse and all those civic leaders who hold public forums have the right attitude. They're putting the public first.

A flashing-light law could help

Legislation to make a Class 4 felony—punishable by up to three years in prison—to unlawfully use a flashing light to stop someone is advancing in the Illinois Senate. We hope it passes and is signed into law.

Sponsored by Sen. Vince Demuzio, D-Carlinville, new Illinois Democratic Party chairman, the bill was introduced in direct response to the abduction in July 1985 of 16-year-old Bridget Drobney near Gillespie.

Testimony this spring in the trial of Daniel Hines, 24, of Wilsonville, showed that a flashing red light owned by Hines was used in his vehicle to pull over Miss Drobney's car. On her way home from a wedding, she was abducted, raped and murdered. Several persons have been convicted of this vicious crime, but that fact does little to alleviate the tragedy. Prevention and deterrence must be emphasized along with punishment.

The Senate Transportation Committee unanimously approved the bill without debate and sent it on to the full Senate, where its progress undoubtedly will receive much public attention.

It would impose the new felony penalty against any person who uses an oscillating, rotating or flashing light and "without lawful authority stops or detains or attempts to stop or detain another person."

Motorists' visibility along a lonely road is limited by darkness; their tendency is to assume that a flashing red light is that of a police vehicle, but this could be a terrifying and even fatal mistake. A new law might be a partial solution.

Bar seatbelt-only roadblocks

Police in Illinois would be restricted from setting up roadblocks to enforce the state's mandatory seatbelt law under legislation endorsed by a Senate committee this month. The seatbelt law went into effect last July 1, and the charge primarily has been lodged only when another traffic violation has occurred.

On a 7-1 vote, the Senate Transportation Committee sent to the full Senate a proposal calling for "secondary" enforcement of the seatbelt bill.

Sen. Frank Watson, R-Greenview, the sponsor, told fellow senators that secondary enforcement had been the stated intent of those backing the seatbelt bill during floor debate in 1984, although this point had not been specified in the law.

"In some areas of the state, local law enforcement has been setting out roadblocks and checking for seatbelt violations. We do not want traffic stops set up," Watson said.

We are somewhat leery of roadblocks even for drunk driving checks, a practice that is to be resumed by state troopers in mid-May. Motorists' concern about being stopped along the highway may be eased somewhat if the roadblocks occur at well-lighted locations, with lots of police and police vehicles present.

Our thinking is that roadblocks ought to be limited in scope and frequency. Buckled seatbelts may be a worthy goal but they do not justify bringing an otherwise lawfully operated automobile to a halt.

DUI suspensions rise sharply

Legislation doesn't always have the effect its authors and sponsors visualize. But Illinois' stricter law on DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs) is right on target; it has greatly increased the number of motorists losing their driving privileges, here and elsewhere.

In Madison County from Jan. 1 through April 10, 1986, a total of 217 persons lost the privilege of driving for varying periods of time and another 173 cases were pending. This compares with 12 suspensions in the same time span a year ago.

Among first-time DUI offenders in Madison County, the tally for slightly more than three months showed 67 of them failed to take the intoxication test and 233 took the test and failed it. Either way, refusal or failure brings a license suspension or worse; only a "passing grade" provides an adequate defense.

The same pattern has been noted statewide since the law went into effect Jan. 1. The 7,594 motorists having driving privileges suspended or revoked for a DUI arrest in 1986 (Jan. 1 through April 10) are more than 10 times the 699 suspended or revoked up to this point in 1985.

This year, 93 percent of first-time DUI offenders have lost driving privileges; last year, about 10 percent received suspensions or revocations.

Is the test useful and are there effective ways to enforce it? Yes, state officials reply; of the repeat DUI offenders taken into custody so far in 1986, 36 percent have suffered the loss of driving privileges.

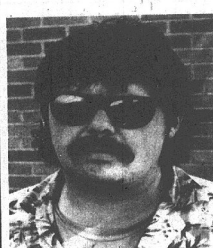

How drunk are many of the drivers? Very. (That's a word often criticized as imprecise, but it applies in this case.)

The profile of an arrested Illinois drunk driver in 1986 shows a 18 percent blood alcohol content (BAC), compared to the legal limit of .10. More than one-third of all DUI offenders registered a BAC of 20 percent or greater. Some topped 35 percent but that level can be lethal to the driver (as well as his or her potential traffic victims) with or without getting behind the wheel.

The average age of drunk drivers in this state is 32. Nine percent are under age 21, 28 percent are under age 25, and 66 percent are under age 35.

Males account for 88 percent and women for 12 percent. Of all those experiencing a DUI arrest, 20 percent have been nabbed before and 80 percent are first-timers.

Readers react

John Monroe, Granite City

"I think the Blues are going to take it all the way. They've got so much going for them now, they'll take it (the Stanley Cup). I think the Blues will take the finals in five games."

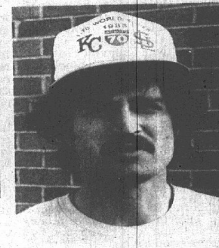

Will Blues win the Cup?

These people were asked (before the Blues' 5-3 defeat Tuesday night) if the Blues will win the Campbell Division series against Calgary and if they have a chance, against apparent opponent Montreal, for the Stanley Cup?

Gene Ross, Granite City

"I think they're going to go all the way. I think there's a pretty good chance it (the finals) will go seven games. It's supposed to be the best two teams in the playoffs, so I think it will go down to the wire."

Carl Hayden, Madison

"Sure, they have a better offense and defense. They're better players all around and they're really improved during the last three seasons. I think they'll (the Blues) win it in seven games against Montreal."

Oil industry problems also hit retirees

To the editor:

In recent weeks some media have carried wire-service stories that tell only part of the story of the impact of the crude-oil price drop and now President Reagan's willingness to seek new energy solutions.

As a royalty owner of a small percentage of production, I am but one of 2.5 million Americans dependent upon the oil industry for a modest retirement income along with my Social Security. I treat this as others would treat an investment in real estate or stocks.

The drop, while beneficial to the comfort of some parts of the nation, will cost others similar to myself $9 billion in lost income, should the price stay at $11 per barrel for one year.

Of these royalty owners, one-third are on farms and ranches. This income is keeping thousands of those hard-hit operations alive and producing for our nation. The other third are located in the smaller rural communities of the nation, our most economically disadvantaged areas.

While the White House reports would indicate that the only states being battered by low prices are Texas to a possibly Oklahoma, the nation's top producing states include others seldom mentioned, such as California, Ohio, Illinois, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, North Dakota, Pennsylvania and Kansas.

In gloating over the whipping producers are taking, the nation's press syndicates also fail to indicate that mineral ownership in the nation, as proven by survey after survey, shows the bulk of royalty owners are over 65 with average checks monthly that range between a high of $345 in Texas to an average of below $200 in Oklahoma and other states. The checks are, thus, "survival," not "windfall." Only one percent of these folks have incomes equal to a U.S. senator.

Most royalty owners are for free enterprise, yet we disagree with the President's current perception that an import fee on crude oil is the bad. Domestic prices are controlled now by OPEC and not by the marketplace.

This lies our national security, of which domestic production is critical, to the whims of precarious foreign interests. The fragility of our relationship with these "allies" is best demonstrated by their verbal attacks on the United States following the U.S.-Libyan military action.

The White House says "let the free market prevail today" while prices are down. Yet the last Administrations have encouraged further controls and domestic taxes when our own oil prices reflected the true cost of domestic production and exploration.

In fact, the Windfall Profit Tax, that now hopefully may be repealed, took an average of from 38 to 60 cents of every dollar of domestic production while prices were higher.

On top of this, royalty owners pay severance, often ad valorem and state and federal income taxes. We hope Congress and the Administration, while finally waking up to the crisis they have provoked, will reconsider a means to restrain OPEC price-fixing tactics.

Retirees favor fair budget cutbacks

To the editor:

Most Americans believe that reducing the deficit is important and I agree with them. Big deficits hurt the economy.

The U.S. Senate is going to vote on a bi-partisan budget soon. The Domenici-Chiles plan cuts the deficit in a fair and effective way.

Drafting a budget is not easy to do, but the Domenici-Chiles plan does it without hurting one group more than others. The plan raises some revenue, holds the line on the defense budget, and reduces domestic spending.

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) has endorsed the Domenici-Chiles plan. It wrote to members of the Senate recommending approval.

AARP has always supported responsible efforts to cut the deficit. The Association believes that a deficit reduction package should recognize the sacrifices various groups have already made, and assure that any further burdens be borne fairly.

Although some people may quarrel with one provision or another in the Domenici-Chiles plan, they don't have an alternative of their own. I believe that the Domenici-Chiles plan deserves our support.

Barge foes oppose progress

To the editor:

Illinois Rep. Jim McPike is pushing legislation to give the State of Illinois control over improvements in Alton Pool 26.

We would point out to him and his environmentalist friends that they wouldn't have all that water in the first place if shippers and navigation interests had not persuaded Congress to build Lock and Dam 26 for better navigation.

These are the very people McPike would like to get out of his precious lake.

We also remind him that the barges tied up — or most of them — are there waiting to get through Lock 26, and they are there and will be for a few more years because the environmentalists delayed the start of a new and larger lock.

Also, the Great River Road, to Grafton is some 18 miles long; the big concentration of barges just above Alton is about 7,000 feet long.

And, once the barges are removed, McPike can still get a good view of the Union Electric power plant over at Portage des Sioux.

County clerks honor senator

The Illinois Association of County Clerks and Recorders last week presented State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, with a plaque for "outstanding leadership."

The association met in Springfield for its annual convention. The award was given to Vadalabene for leadership and support of county government. "I'm very honored," Vadalabene said. "County governments are a vital form of local government. In the past few years they have faced hardships, such as increased state mandates, less revenues and other assorted problems."

Pam Hoffman

GC girl missing

GRANITE CITY — A 16-year-old Granite City girl has been missing since Monday, her father said.

Gary Hoffman of 2636 W. 20th St. said he took his daughter, Pam, to Granite City High School Monday at 7:30 a.m. He filed a missing person report with police Monday evening after she failed to come home from school that afternoon.

Hoffman had no idea why his daughter is missing or where she could be.

"I've heard a lot of things since she left," he said. He said he hadn't noticed any differences in Pam's attitudes lately, and she had been attending church regularly.

Pam is described as 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 126 pounds, with brown hair and blue eyes. She has a scar under her chin and one on a leg.

She was last seen wearing blue jeans and a black jacket with a red stripe down the sleeve and "Puma" written on the front.

Venice to accept Broadway viaduct

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

VENICE — The city will assume jurisdiction of the Broadway viaduct after renovation of the structure is completed by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Venice aldermen made the decision with little discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the City Council.

"WE ARE STILL hung up with the responsibility of accepting the overpass if they are going to do that work," Mayor Tyrone Echols reminded council members.

"If they are willing to spend $4 million to do it, I think the city can accept that responsibility," 4th Ward Alderman Charles Haynes said.

"It has got to be done, but it is up to the council to make that decision. We've missed out before on projects," the mayor replied.

THIRD WARD Alderman John Ervin questioned the time frame involved in making the decision. "Is this going to be two or three years from now?" he asked.

"I think it is for the July (bid) letting," Echols said. "If we are not going to accept it, maybe they won't do it," he added.

At the council's last session, Glenn Meek, an IDOT agreement and permit technician, explained the $4 million improvement project proposed for the Broadway viaduct, which crosses the Terminal Railroad tracks at the east end of the city's main thoroughfare.

EXTENSIVE RENOVATIONS are planned, including removal of the present deck and steel supports, replacing the steel under the bridge and constructing an entirely new 62-foot-wide deck.

New five-foot-wide sidewalks and railings on either side of the overpass will be included in the plans.

Several aldermen expressed concern about accepting jurisdictional transfer from the state, noting the city does not have the funds to maintain the structure.

"WHEN REPAIRS are completed the overpass will be like a brand new bridge," Meek assured the council.

SECOND WARD Alderman Hank Sveda made a motion agreeing to the transfer and it passed unanimously.

"I see they have started demolishing that house on Broadway," Echols said. The dwelling at 700 Broadway has been a source of numerous complaints from the public to aldermen.

"The EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) is on my back again about cleaning up that area and it is going to cost between $2,000 and $3,000," the mayor said, pointing west toward Illinois 3.

He was referring to property owned by Union Electric Co. and the State of Illinois, located west of Illinois 3 and within the city limits.

The area has been used as a dumping ground by area residents. Not all the dumpers, however, are from Venice, it was noted.

"We've got to get that area cleaned out to appease the EPA. They have been back here twice about it," the mayor said.

84 Lumber names new co-manager

As co-manager, Brewer is responsible for total store operation, including sales and inventory control; 84 Lumber is a retail lumber chain with regional offices in five major cities and 370 stores nationwide.

Amount of settlement in GC Steel accident sealed by circuit judge

By Jack C. Ventimiglia
Executive editor

GRANITE CITY — A settlement was reached in a lawsuit that arose from a February 1984 crane mishap at Granite City Steel.

After a seven-day trial ending in the Third Judicial Circuit Court April 29, George Key, 30, of Edwardsville, reached a settlement with Alliance Machine Co. of Ohio. The company made the crane.

Terms of the agreement between the company and the former Granite City Steel employee were sealed by Judge A. Andrea Matosian.

"I'd give it all back if they could just put me back the way I was," Key said of the settlement.

He declined comment on his present physical condition.

Key was the most seriously injured of 11 persons hurt at the plant when a crane failure resulted in a ladle of molten iron being dropped. He received second- and third-degree burns over 40 percent of his body.

In the case, Key alleged that Alliance Machine Co. had agreed to repair the crane after a nearly identical failure on a similar crane in 1982, according to information provided by Key's attorney, William S. Beatty of Granite City.

"Alliance failed to make the repairs, and the crane was put back into service in a defective condition," according to Beatty.

"It then failed after approximately 16 months of use."

Beatty works within the Law Offices of William W. Schooley, 2038 Edison Ave.

GC man escapes from police custody

GRANITE CITY — Authorities are looking for Craig S. Towery, 17, of 2299 Pershing Blvd. after he fled from Granite City police while he was being taken to court April 29.

An escape warrant for Towery has been issued, a police department spokesman said.

Towery is described as being 6 feet 1 inch tall, weighing 140 pounds, and having blond hair and blue eyes.

He was originally charged April 28 with disorderly conduct, resisting a peace officer, battery and criminal trespass to land. A 16-year-old boy was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest; he also served a warrant on a charge of delinquency.

The two were walking near Kirkpatrick Homes when they were seen by an officer, who was looking for them in connection with an investigation.

When the officer asked them to stop, the two began to run through the housing project, the officer said. He pursued on foot and the two entered one of the apartments. Towery had to be forcibly taken from a closet in the apartment, police said.

Both Towery and the youth were taken to the police station. While he was being booked, Towery allegedly struck a police officer in the face with his fist.

Shipley will aid Liberty campaign

The Statue of Liberty/Ellis Island Campaign has been brought to Granite City with the appointment of Larry A. Shipley to head a local drive, it was announced by the American Chiropractic Association (ACA).

Dr. Shipley, 2502 Pontoon Road, has agreed to contribute $1 per patient visit during the drive in each patient's name to the national foundation which is rehabilitating the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. Additional contributions will also be encouraged.

The project has been taken on nationally by the 22,000 ACA members, who see this as an opportunity to bring public attention to their structural health needs while fulfilling a patriotic duty.

Shipley said, "Most Americans have more in common with the Statue of Liberty than they realize."

"She represents much of what our country stands for: heritage, freedom and anatomical beauty. Her monumental form is taken from the likeness of the human body in posture and in bearing. Both are beautiful; both are subject to structural problems."

"The lady of liberty has gone through pain and is now being brought back to health with structural renovation. Just as the Statue of Liberty fell into disrepair, so health can deteriorate if you do not follow a preventive maintenance program."

The campaign will end on July 4 with the Statue of Liberty centennial celebration in New York.

Gets scholarship

Thomas J. Adarnitis, son of Thomas and Carolyn Adarnitis, 2112 Amos Ave., Granite City, has been awarded a 1986 Philbrick Scholarship by the Alpha Tau Omega Foundation.

He is majoring in accounting at the University of Illinois. He will receive a $1,150 scholarship.

2 grants to Head Start

Project Head Start received two federal grants this year, retiring board president Paul Lauske reported at a joint meeting of the boards of Head Start and Family Service and Visiting Nurse Association (FSVNA) of Alton.

FSVNA has administered Head Start for the past two years. The Head Start service area includes the Quad-City Area.

Head Start is funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, which also gave the two grants. A $27,000 grant was used to buy additional educational materials and to improve the staff salaries. Four 35-passenger buses were purchased with the other grant.

Lauske said the program has achieved full compliance with federal standards in less than two academic years. He said, "That's quite an accomplishment because they usually find some minor exception."

The program is at full enrollment with 394 four-year-olds and their families taking part.

In addition to a curriculum which develops motor skills, language and behavior to prepare the youngsters to enter kindergarten, the FSVNA Head Start program provides health services for the children and in some instances for their families. Nutrition, hearing, vision, physical and dental screenings are given.

A health coordinator aids in following up on problems found in the screenings. Families are referred to physicians or other agencies to make sure health services are obtained, according to Head Start Administrator Ken Pelletier.

Pelletier said staff members have been asked to speak this year at three conferences for Head Start personnel and at the Midwest Conference on Early Child Care.

FSVNA, which is marking its 70th year as a home health agency, re-elected Richard Woodcock, president; James Handley, Gay Bryant and Rodman St. Clair, vice presidents; William Bedell, treasurer; and Tom McConahay, secretary.

New officers were elected for the board of Project Head Start: Tom Zirges, president; Tom McConahay, vice president; Rodman St. Clair, treasurer; and David Van Winkle, secretary.

Head Start board members appointed by the FSVNA board for a term of one year include William Bedell, Paul Lauske, Steve Mottaz, Essie Robinson, James Handley and Gay Bryant.

Students not bending truth in class

A young girl sat at a table, intently bending thin wire into an object d'art. A smaller boy drew a formidable face onto a replica of an Africa mask.

These youngsters are not in art classes at an affluent school district. They are students attending classes at the St. Louis Art Museum.

The art museum offers a collection of classes for children in preschool through eighth grade. High school students attend classes through invitation, similar to a scholarship program.

The classes combine appreciation of the museum's collection with opportunities for children to create their own works of art. Children learn art appreciation, art history and the use of visual elements, such as line, color and shape.

"The art they create is a kind of internalization of what they have seen," said Marianne James, assistant head of teachers and youth programs. "Kids come away with an ability to make judgments on the art they see. And they have a greater appreciation how people communicate ideas."

James stressed that students do not mimic the masters. "We allow kids the opportunity to create their own work," she said.

Classes are innovative, often combining mediums of learning. In the first and second grade class, students are introduced to works of art that tell stories. In the class, "Once Upon a Time," students view and discuss works by artists including George Bingham. They are asked questions to determine the story content of Bingham's work.

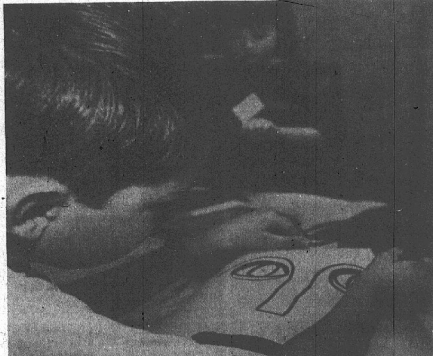

As a follow-up exercise, students or parents are suggested a series of books that coincide with Bingham's era, like The Adventures of Tom Sawyer or Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain.

And children soon will have their own gallery in which to exhibit their creations.

The art museum's Children's Gallery, which has been three years in the making, is an important addition to the cultural community in the metropolitan area. There are few museums in the U.S. that have galleries to exhibit works by children, James said.

But the art museum staff identified the Children's Gallery as a necessary goal.

"I've seen a lot of art work produced by kids and we have sent (them home to parents). But some of them are so special, we're happy to have the opportunity to display them."

TROUT MASK REPLICA: These students design masks after viewing African masks in the St. Louis Art Museum's collection. The children are in first and second grade classes.

Marshall PTA honors its top candy salesmen

Chris Null, a fourth grade student at Marshall School, was named top salesman in the candy sale project sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association unit.

He received a $50 savings bond. He and Tiffany Click, another winner, were presented certificates for dinner at McDonald's Restaurant for their families.

Other students who received cash awards in their class division were Casey Trigg, Heather Mathes, Nick Downs, Melissa Webb, Tiffany, Click, Amy Boring, Jonathan Blomme, Rhonda Connor, Leighann Klug, Eric Vaillo, Jason Stern, Tina Wallace, Jason Blomme, William Colp, Dirk Fearman, Charles Six, Jack Hoppe and Dan Brownbauer.

The fund-raising project totaled, $1,890, the chairman said.

During a monthly PTA meeting, Mrs. Shelle Davenport was elected "teacher of the year" and was given a gift certificate for dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

The retiring president, Emil

Klug, announced Mrs. Annette Landman was given a gift during "Secretaries' Week" in appreciation for her assistance to the PTA.

Klug also reported the third grade won the Cultural Arts award for March.

An election of officers for the 1986-87 year was held, with Carol Klug named president; Joan Stark, vice president; Jana Boring, treasurer; and Nellie Jackson, secretary.

The unit also presented a $500 check to Principal Jim Jeffries to be used for transportation fees for the pupils' field trips this month. It also was announced the PTA purchased 12 ceiling fans for classrooms and will furnish fans for the remaining rooms when funds are available.

Members voted to pay $50 toward the safety patrols' trip to a Cardinal baseball game.

The school picnic and the purchase of outdoor play equipment were discussed. Connie Downs was named chairman of the picnic, scheduled for May 27.

O. I've noticed most material about individual Retirement Accounts includes a statement that there are "substantial penalties" for early withdrawal. How "substantial" are those penalties?

A. Many people may, unfortunately, be frightened away from IRAs because of that statement. Even with a penalty for early withdrawal, IRAs are, perhaps, the best tax shelter for middle income wage earners. How "substantial" an early withdrawal penalty is depends where the IRA was opened. However, usually, the penalty isn't enough to deter you from opening an IRA. The basic penalty is 10% for early withdrawals. Thus, if, before age 59½, you withdrew $8,000, you would owe Uncle Sam $800. Of course, any withdrawals become part of your taxable income for that year. If your salary for the year were $20,000, the $8,000 IRA withdrawal would bring your taxable income to $28,000. Remember, the penalty is somewhat offset by the amount of tax savings realized while the money is deposited in an IRA. Usually, you'll come out ahead if you leave the money in an IRA at least five years before early withdrawal.

Catching up on some lost items and passing along a few things:

Some people will do almost anything to get their name in the paper. Case in point is Arvil Ogle of Granite City.

Ogle, a sophomore church music major at Lee College in Cleveland, Tenn. (30 miles north of Chattanooga), recently took part in a 100-hour marathon softball game to benefit the March of Dimes.

The Granite City native was one of 20 members of the Alpha Gamma Chi fraternity who played in the game. The contest began at 2 p.m. on April 1 and lasted until 6 p.m. on April 5.

In the process, the group broke the official "Guinness Book of World Records" mark for the longest softball game. The old record was 95 hours, set by the crew of the U.S.S. Williamette at Pearl Harbor in April 1964.

The "game" got national media attention as stories appeared in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and USA Today.

Players were given keys to the city by the Cleveland mayor and received letters of congratulations from Gov. Lamar Alexander and Congresswoman Marilyn Lloyd.

It was for a good cause. More than $20,000 was raised for the March of Dimes. Game balls, signed by the players, were auctioned off. One ball sold for $500.

QUOTE/UNQUOTE: Of all the area high school baseball coaches, the supreme wordman is Edwardsville's Tom Pile.

Win or lose, Pile will fill a notebook with his observations.

After Granite City beat the Tigers 6-0 at LeClaire Field a couple of weeks ago, Pile offered this ditty:

"One of the reasons this team can't hit is we don't have any butt," Pile said. "I mean, I have a cleanup hitter who weighs 135 pounds. He has no butt. You are never going to hit for power like that."

On the play of sophomore third baseman Tony Lockett: "I didn't even know his name. I kept calling him Lockhart. But he can play. He throws the ball over to first on a string, not on a parachute."

WHAT A GAME: It should be. Officials at Venice are planning "Nostalgia Night" for Friday, May 23. The event will feature a basketball game between Madison and Venice "oldtimers."

Proceeds will go to the Junior Lettermen's Club. Additional details will be forthcoming.

SOPH SENSATION: East Side pitcher Terry Westerfield continues to dominate the prep baseball season.

Last week, Westerfield improved his record to 8-0 as the Flyers beat Belleville West 4-1 in a SWC game. Westerfield also went 3-for-3 at the plate with a pair of home runs and 2 RBIs.

"This is the first time I've ever had a pitcher this young do so good," said Flyer coach Art May.

NAME GAMES: A scorekeeper's nightmare, or these names will never fit into this little space: Tim Demetrius of Cahokia; Rhonda Reifschneider of Belleville East. More on names: Edwardsville has three starters with the last name of Burns. There are brothers Gary Burns and Chris Burns and cousin Jeff Burns. Also on the same team are catcher Dan Long and rightfielder Mike Long. They, however, are not related.

Baseball parade
held Saturday

The Granite City Park District's annual Baseball Parade will be held this Saturday to kick off the district's Little League season.

The parade, featuring Granite City native Dal Maxvill, the general manager of the St. Louis Baseball Cardinals, will begin at 1 p.m. at the 24th Street parkway. It will go down Madison Avenue and end up at Dal Maxvill Field in Wilson Park.

The first boys Little League games will be played following the festivities.

Warriors stop
East Side, 6-5;
go 6-1 in SWC

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor

The "butcher" had the last cut here Wednesday night, and he made the most of it.

Todd "Butch" Hinterer laced a single to right center field that scored Todd Adamitis with the winning run as Granite City beat East St. Louis 6-5 in eight innings at Varsity Field.

"We owed them that," said Warrior coach Bob Stegemeier, whose team had lost three straight one-run games to the Flyers prior to this meeting.

The victory was the Warriors' fifth in their last six games and kept alive their hopes of at least a tie for the Southwestern Conference baseball championship.

Granite City is now 16-11 overall and 6-1 in the SWC. East Side is 21-3 and 6-1. The Warriors have three conference games remaining, all on the road.

"We're not looking for any help," Stegemeier said. "We still have to win three more games."

Granite City clawed back from a 4-0 deficit and pulled starter Jeff Zukas off the hook. Zukas exited in the second inning. Erric Gray pitched 5 1/2 strong innings, allowing just one run in the fifth.

Mark Bowen took over for Gray in the eighth and fanned all three batters he faced. Bowen was credited with the win.

Flyer ace Terry Westerfield, who still has yet to lose this season, pitched seven innings before giving way to Laurence Moore. Moore experienced control problems and hit Jamie Hogan on the foot and conked Steve Davis on the back, loading the bases for Hinterer.

Behind on the count, Hinterer's hit scored Adamitis, who had started the eighth with a triple to the left field fence.

"It was a fastball. That was the only thing he could throw," said Hinterer.

Said Stegemeier, "Todd's been getting some RBIs, however, he hasn't really been stinging the ball. But he really creamed that one."

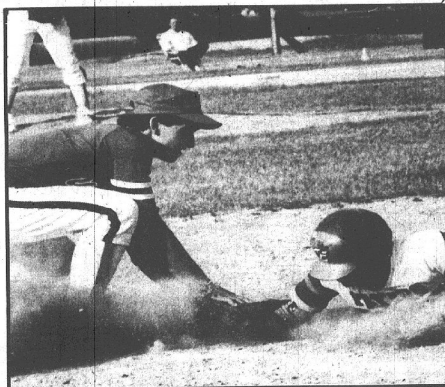

Granite City also played well on defense. First baseman Jim Chomko might have saved two runs in the sixth when he dove to his right to rob Dave Edwards of a sure hit.

"That might have been the key to the whole game," said Flyer coach Art May.

East Side held leads of 4-0, 4-2 and 5-3 before Granite City rallied.

"We just didn't have that killer instinct," May said.

a misplayed bunt. Billy Moore also scored in the inning to cut the lead to 4-2.

East Side regained its three-run lead in the fifth. Edwards singled and scored on Clark Williams' check-swing single.

Matt Roe countered for Granite City in the bottom of the inning with a solo home run which landed in the left field trees.

The Warriors tied the game in the sixth. Fred Becker doubled and scored on a sacrifice by Jamie Hogan. Davis then doubled, scoring Hogan, knotting the score at 5-5.

All told, Granite City got 11 hits, including three bunts, two of which figured into the scoring.

"We started out kind of down and all of a sudden things started to happen," said Stegemeier. "We got excited on the bases and we bunted the ball extremely well. We figured Westerfield would have trouble fielding the ball so we worked hard on (bunt strategy)."

Granite City will play at Alton on Friday at 4 p.m. On Monday, the Warriors will meet Belleville East in a re-scheduled game.

Stevanus is one of Stars' 3 signees

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Terry Collins moved three steps closer towards fulfilling his "wish list" last week.

Three Metro East basketball players, including one from Granite City, signed letters of intent to play at Granite City Campus next fall.

The players are former Warrior Don Stevanus, Bob Range of Collinsville and Craig Ledbetter of Carlyle High School.

Collins said he would like to sign six players to fill out next fall's roster.

"We are still looking at a few more kids but don't have any word yet," the coach said.

The additions should help bolster the Stars' inside game. Stevanus is 6-9 and played center in high school. Ledbetter is listed at 6-4 and played forward. Range, the smallest of the trio, is 6-2 and a good ballhandler.

The Stars, however, came up short in their bid to sign Bethalto's Doug Carey. He will attend Belleville Area College next fall.

Still, Collins indicated the new signees filled several needs for the Stars, who were dealt a tough blow when Jeff Gray announced last month he planned to transfer to Eureka College. Gray was the Stars' second-leading scorer last season.

"We're still looking for a point guard and two more inside players," Collins said. "But I'm very pleased with this group."

"We are at a point in our program where we can search for quality rather than just quantity."

Here is a capsule look at the new GCC recruits:

DON STEVANUS: He played on the same team with Gray and was the starting center for the 1985 Warrior team that finished 18-8 and won the Southwestern Conference and regional championships.

Stevanus transferred from Will Rogers University in Oklahoma.

"I project him as an inside player for us," Collins said. "He could definitely be a contributor as a post-man."

BOB RANGE: At 6-2, Range played guard for the Kahoks last season and was voted the team's Most Valuable Player. He didn't see much varsity action as a junior, but averaged 15.5 points per game as a senior. He shot 48 percent from the floor and was a 72 percent free throw shooter.

"One of the reasons we signed Bob was that his coach (Bob Bone) used to coach at East Central, which is in our league. He (Bone) said Range would make a good guard in our league (Midwest Community College Athletic Conference)," Collins said.

"(Bob) could be a contender for a starting position."

CRAIG LEDBETTER: He played on the same team with all-star Phil Kunz and was Carlyle's best defensive player.

At 6-4, Ledbetter is penciled to play at a forward position. He averaged 14 points and seven rebounds per game for the Indians.

"We are going to play him at forward, but he could develop into a big guard," Collins said. "He's a real good ball handler."

The Stars will be looking to improve last season's 13-16 record. Returning will be Perry Jones, the leading scorer, Mike Helmer, Jeff Pieper and Kirt Robinson.

Collins might also get some minutes from Cleon Williamson, who sat out last season to work on academics. Williamson prepped at Vashon High School in St. Louis.

Another player Collins hopes to return to the fold is David Weller, a Bethalto graduate.

Weller sat out last season after suffering a severe knee injury in November. Weller played some two years ago. He was a fine player for the Eagles in high school, averaging 14 points a game.

Girls drop

BELLEVILLE — Eight runs are all that's standing between 9-12 and 15-6 for the Granite City girls softball team.

The Warriors dropped yet another tight game Wednesday, falling 2-6 at Belleville East as Lancer pitcher Rhonda Reifschneider allowed only one hit.

Granite City starter Amy Moss matched pitches with Reifschneider for four innings, but an injury to Warrior shortstop Tracy Gaudette might have led to Moss' downfall in the fifth. When Gaudette jammed her thumb and was unable to continue, Davis was forced to juggle the lineup and move Keri Holtkamp from third base to shortstop.

With one out in the fifth, Dana Farley hit a bloopier into short left center that dropped.

"People see balls like that caught in the major leagues all the time, so they think it's easy, but it's not," Davis said. "We had to move Keri from her position and it was a tough play for her. It was unfortunate it hit us."

Sharon Penn followed with an RBI hit, and after Tami Bova got an infield hit, Rhonda Richards got a two-out infield hit, and Penn, hustling all the way, scored from second.

That was all Reifschneider needed. She was in trouble only in the third. Gaudette reached on an error and Karen Sykes followed with the Warriors' lone hit, a line drive into left field. Reifschneider fielded Sandy Sternberg's bunt, but threw too late to third and the bases were loaded with only one out.

Holtkamp, the Warriors' leading hitter, hit the ball very hard, but right at Farley in center field, and the runners had to hold.

Kim Armour then struck out swinging.

EAST ST. LOUIS — Senior Lora Wiser won two events and Wendy Knollman grabbed two seconds and a first to help pace Granite City to a third place finish at the annual Southwestern Conference track meet last week.

Final team scores were: East St. Louis 93; Belleville West 55; Granite City 52; Belleville East 41; Alton 24 and Collinsville 4 points.

Wiser won the 1,600 in 5:35.5. Maria Moslander was fifth (6:04). In the 3,200, Wiser's winning time was 11:41.6. Teammate Monica Young was fourth.

Knollman led a 1-2 finish for the Warriors in the long jump. Knollman's winning leap was 17' 10" (See SWC, Page 12A)

Trojans use Mosby's arm to surprise Red Devils, 6-2

By Gary King
Correspondent

MADISON — Prior to their contest with the Venice Red Devils, there hadn't been much reason for jubilation in the Madison baseball camp. But Andre Mosby gave the Trojans such reason here Tuesday.

In scattering four hits and six walks over seven innings of work, Mosby allowed the Trojans to post their second win of the season, 6-2 over the Devils. Ironically, Madison had lost to Venice by the exact same score on April 17.

After the contest, Trojan coach Marcus Spraggins praised his young freshman hurler, saying he was a "definite prospect" to solve some of Madison's pitching problems.

"He (Mosby) pitched really well today," Spraggins said. "We decided to give him a chance against Assumption last week, and he did really well there, too. He eventually got in some trouble late in the game and started walking some people, but overall he did pretty well against them (Assumption)."

"But today he was just excellent. He's only a freshman, but he's a definite prospect to help us out for the next three years."

Another thing which pleased the Trojan coach was the way his squad "got out of the chute," something they have had difficulty doing this season.

Center fielder Anthony Valentine got Madison on the board early in the contest when he lined a double which allowed Darnell Marshall to cross the plate. Catcher John Browley then added to the Trojan advantage when he brought home Valentine with an RBI single. Browley eventually scored on an error by Venice catcher Derrick Wise, giving Madison a 3-0 lead after one inning.

The Trojans added to their cushion in the second inning, as Vincent Valentine and Marshall both were able to score on a two-out single by Anthony Valentine.

Venice began to cut the deficit in the top of the third when Tyrone Treadway scored on an error by Browley. Wilfred Wigfall, who had reached base on Browley's error, then narrowed the score to 5-2 when he crossed the plate on another fielding mishap by Vincent Valentine.

But the Red Devils were unable to get any closer, as Mosby was able to stave off several late Venice scoring threats. In all,

Venice left 10 men stranded in the contest.

Orlando Love suffered the loss for Venice, as the junior righthander allowed the Trojans 11 hits and a walk while striking out seven in the contest.

According to Spraggins, the difference in the contest was Madison's ability to hold their lead and keep their composure throughout the contest.

"We've had some trouble holding on to our leads this year," he said. "It has seemed like whenever we get off to a good start, we just have kind of lost our composure, and that's cost us some games. But today we started off strong and played well for the remainder of the game. We only struck out seven times, and that's good for us."

"But we probably haven't seen the last of them (Venice). More than likely, we'll have to play them again in the first game of the regionals. I just hope we play as well then as we did today."

VENICE: Wigfall 1B; Townsend 2B; T. Wiley 1B; Love 7 (LH); S.O. 7, BB 1, LOB 10. MADISON: Marshall 1B; Valentine 1B; 2B, 3B; Browley 1B, RBI; Valters 2B; Spivey 2B, RBI; Valentine 2B, WP; Mosby (7 Inn.), SO 7, BB 4, LOB 3.

16-3. Lisa Wiser was second (15-11 1/2).

Knollman also placed second in both the 100 (12.7) and the 200 (27.5), finishing behind East St. Louis runners in both races.

Other finishes for Granite City included: Lisa Wiser fourth in the 400; Faye Patton and Julie Gabriel fourth and fifth, respectively, in the 800. Melinda Pucker was fifth in the 300 low hurdles. Wendy Crane was fourth in the high jump. Terri Selph (114.7) and Paula Shane (110.7) placed fourth and fifth in the discus.

East St. Louis dominated the speed events, taking first places in the 100, 200, 400, 800, 110 and 300 hurdles. The Flyerettes' Melba Golliday also won the discus with a toss of 138-4.

East Side also won the 400 relay, the 800 medley, the 1,600 and 3,200 relays. East St. Louis and Belleville East were both disqualified in the 800 relay. Alton ended up winning that event.

Trojanettes win meet; get set for sectional

The Madison girls track team won its final triangular meet of the regular season Monday by scoring 89 1/2 points to defeat Belleville Althoff and Columbia.

The Crusaders were second with 49 1/2 points while Columbia finished with 25 points.

The Trojanettes are now prepared to run in Saturday's Class A Sectional at Waterloo. Sixteen teams are entered in the meet to determine qualifiers for the state meet next weekend in Charleston.

Trojanette coach Luvena Long anticipates tough competition from Columbia, Carlinville and Freeburg in particular. Other schools at Waterloo will include the host team, Breese Central, Mater Dei, Mt. Olive, Greenfield, Greenville and Piasa Southwestern.

To qualify for the state meet, relay teams and individuals must finish in first or second place at the sectionals, or match qualifying times set by the state.

"All of my relay teams have run in those times," Long said. "We did a beautiful job at Red Bud (when the Trojanettes set four meet records). Right now, I would say if we run like we can, I expect four of our relay teams to qualify for state."

● Trojans

200-yard dash with a time of 23.9. Madison also grabbed first place finishes in two relay events.

DeLarren Young, William Blockton, Ware and Joseph Starnes combined to win the 3,200 relay in 10:09.

Madison also won the 800 relay with Leonard, Terrence Hicks, D. Hicks and Oliver Walker running a 1:35.9. The quartet of Leonard, the Hickses and Green took second in the 400 relay behind Belleville Althoff.

Long is hoping for state qualifiers in the 400 relay (Sheila Marshall, Vivian Turner, Tammy Deal and LeGloria Marshall); the 800 relay (S. Marshall, Tammie Enlow, L. Marshall and Turner); the medley (S. Marshall, Lisa Davenport, L. Marshall, and Deal or Enlow); and the 1600 relay (Enlow, L. Marshall, Deal and Melissa Davenport). The 3200 relay team of Enlow, Tonya Wellmaker, Coretta Farrell and Melissa Davenport is given an outside shot.

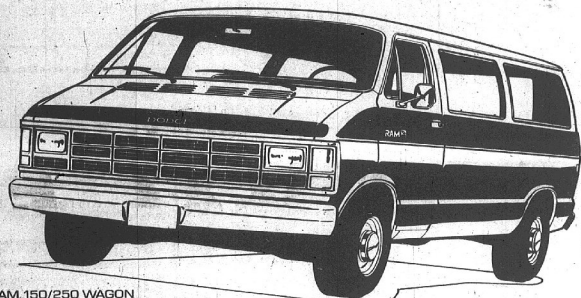

Individually, Long is confident in Deal qualifying in the 400 meter run. Deal will be looking for redemption after falling during last year's state finals in the 800 meter medley. Deal had collided with Sherrad's Diane Steele. Madison was disqualified in that event.

Deal may or may not be a part of this year's medley team. That event will be held right after the 400 meter run, and Long isn't sure if Deal will be able to go. But the coach is hopeful of a couple of others reaching Charleston. She said Turner has an "outside chance" in the 200 meter run. And Dezona Echols could slip through in the 100 meter low hurdles. "Dezona and Yuenna (Sanders) could also slip through in the 300 meter hurdles," Long said.

Avery Ware took second in the 3,200 run. His time was 12:11.8. Ware also was fourth in the 1,600. Walker was second in the 100 (11.66) and was third in the 200 for Madison. Leonard grabbed fourth place in the 100; Starnes was second in the 800 (2:08.8). Otis Ware took third in the 400 (1:56). James Townsend was third in the shot put (38-8 1/2). In the discus, Kemp placed fifth (98-feet). Avery Ware was fourth in the triple jump (36 feet).

Softball:

It's not just for beer leaguers anymore

To a great majority of people, the game of softball is played by guys who are anxious to play the game and then cool off in the dugout with a cold one.

That will always be a popular brand of softball everywhere, but it is far from the only kind. The "beer leaguers" generally play slow-pitch softball, which is a lot of fun. I spend my summers on the diamonds trying to hit that ball, traveling, oh, so slowly from the pitcher's mound to home plate.

My grandfather used to come to the games and watch the pitcher lob the ball in. He wondered what the trick was.

"Anybody could kill that thing coming in that slow," he would yell.

Yeah, maybe. The poor ball does get killed rather often in slow-pitch, and it isn't unusual to see both teams score 15 runs or more in a game. But it is not that easy. The guys hitting line drives all over the place have worked on it. You can bet on that. It looks so easy that the first time you're up, you want to lunge out and hit 'em like Jack Clark does.

I guarantee you, you will look like an idiot. There is nothing as embarrassing on this earth as swinging and missing in a slow-pitch game.

But back to the point. Anyone who is in reasonably good shape can go out and have a good time in slow-pitch. But for the true softball fan, fast-pitch is where it's at.

I never saw a fast-pitch game until I covered some games two years ago. I soon got hooked. I now look forward to covering them more than anything.

My dad told me the church league I now play in tried to have a fast-pitch league one summer many years ago. It didn't last. There simply weren't enough people who could master the art of pitching.

Find yourself someone who can pitch, and you will have a dynamite team.

Last weekend in Cahokia, the Comanches hosted a 16-team tournament featuring some of the better teams in southern Illinois. Granite City was there as were all the Belleville schools and teams from Quincy, Herrin and Mascoutah.

But it was clear to almost everyone who would eventually play in the finals. Bethalto and Cahokia did, simply because they have the two most dominant pitchers in the area. Bethalto's Roanna Brazier and Cahokia's Sharon Coleman didn't allow a run between them in the tournament until they met in the finals, when Brazier, who also swings a pretty mean bat, hurled a three-hit, 5-1 win.

Brazier, a lefty, has an intimidating windup which precedes a pitch that is travelling somewhere around 70 miles per hour. And she's only 46 feet from home plate. It's tough, believe me.

Granite City has a good pitcher, Amy Moss. She's one of the better ones in the area, with a no-hitter to her credit this year against Alton. She may not be in Brazier or Coleman's class, but she has kept the Warriors very competitive. Warrior coach Jim Davis is working a sophomore, Tammy LeVault, on the mound in the hopes she can lead the team for the next two years.

"Fast-pitch softball is dominated by pitching," Davis said at the beginning of the year. "Even more so than baseball."

With a great pitcher, you can beat anybody."

To give you an idea of how much difference that one pitcher can be, Brazier is 14-0 this year. She missed three games with an injury early in the season, and the Eagles were 1-2 in those games.

"They were just another team then," said one observer at the Cahokia tournament.

But pitching is still the thing. It's a difficult art. The natural thing to happen when you're throwing underhand with a lot of velocity is for the ball to take off and go 20 feet over the batter's head. Learning that control and knowing at what point in the windup to release the ball is the trick. And you still have to maintain good velocity.

"The quality of pitching and of the game in general has gone up lately," Davis said.

The Warriors have two more home games before the regionals, next Monday against Belleville West and Thursday against Alton. The games are played on Diamond 8 at Wilson Park, across from Niedringhaus School. Venice will play at Madison next Wednesday.

If you have the time, come on out. The girls play hard and they play well. You will enjoy it.

Matthew 28:20 - "...to, I am with you always."

The Scripture states that heaven and earth will pass away, but His word will never pass away. His Word states that He will never leave or forsake us. This promise belongs to us today and He will not take it away from us.

This being the case then, know that He is with you. Whether you feel His presence or not, He is there. In the midst of trouble and trial, He is there. Whether you have a spiritual or physical need, He stands ready to help you.

The simplest way to prove that He is near is to pray. Just make sincere. The answer you need is already on the way.

He is with you. Today.

Orientation program is Gateway BPW topic

The Gateway Business and Professional Women's Organization conducted an orientation for its members at the April meeting held at Jerry's Cafeteria under the direction of President Judith McCann.

Ruth Nicholas spoke on the history of the organization, noting the first national convention was held in St. Louis in 1919. This was the beginning of the largest women's national organization formed for the purpose of "women helping women" and to provide support in education, careers, community and legislative involvement.

In 1956 the national headquarters was moved to Washington D.C., she concluded.

In reference to "the Collect," the president said it is a prayer for the organization to instill a sense of unity among women working together.

The emblem with the symbols of the Nike Torch, Wand, Ship of Commerce and Scroll are all within a golden circle.

Nike is a symbol of strength, the torch a symbol of leadership, the wand a symbol of opportunity, the ship of commerce a symbol of growth, and the scroll a symbol of achievement. They are within the golden circle which represents the globe and signifies unbroken harmony and endless friendship, it was explained.

In the selection of the green and gold colors, green represents growth, activity and strength, and gold is a sign of sun, faith and fruitfulness.

LaVelle Stephens explored the seven standing committee chairman duties; they help make up the board of directors.

The finance chairman manages funds of the group by preparing a budget; the foundation committee establishes a scholarship fund or supports financially the national scholarship funds; the legislation panel informs members of legislative matters; membership involves members and orient them; the program chairman provides speakers, forums and seminars; public relations promotes and publicizes BPW, alerting the public and women in the community of the organization's goals; and the young careerist chairman recruits young women and promotes activities to involve them.

An Individual Development Course (IDC) was discussed by Ollie Derr. She said a two-course plan to help individuals pursue their personal development offers an opportunity for women to build self-confidence, self-assurance and leadership ability.

Course One is for members of BPW and non-members, while Course Two is for members only. Participants learn to write and deliver their own speeches, usually for a three-minute talk. The first session utilizes the BPW as a topic. All new members were encouraged to take IDC when it is available.

McCann gave a quiz on the foundation and its history and protocol. Since the president recently visited Italy, all prizes were from Italy.

She announced Barbara Young will represent the organization in the Hands Across America project.

Nicholas, chairwoman of the auditing committee, noted the books have been audited.

Installation of newly-elected officers will be conducted on Monday, May 19, at Tony's Restaurant in Maryville.

Skating party for Pack 13 cub scouts

Each scout received a free soda and a coupon for French fries and will receive a uniform patch at the next pack meeting, the cubmaster said.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Sometimes landlords contact this office and ask whether or not they can be held liable if a tenant is injured on their property, with many rental units, the tenant rents the apartment itself and the landlord retains control over common areas such as stairways, passageways, and halls.

Whether or not the landlord can be held responsible for injuries sustained by tenants and their guests depends upon the way in which the accident happened in each particular situation. Generally speaking, if the landlord retains control over a part of the property for the common use of several tenants, he has a duty of exercising reasonable care to keep his property in a safe condition. This duty of exercising reasonable care in maintaining the property is owed not only to any guests on the premises, but also to any guests on the premises.

In one recent case, an eleven year old girl was visiting with three children in an apartment complex. As part of a game, the children chased each other down a foyer which had a door with fifteen small glass panes. At one point, the plaintiff in this case ran toward the door as it was closing slowly toward her. As the child reached for the doorknob, the door quickly slammed shut and her hand met one of the glass panes of the door. This caused her hand and arm to be forced through it, and she suffered permanent scarring and disfigurement.

The trial judge entered judgment in favor of the property owners. The plaintiffs took the case on appeal and argued that the door was unreasonably dangerous because it was defectively maintained by the defendants. The injured girl noted that as she approached the door, it began closing slowly. When she reached for the doorknob, however, the door quickly slammed shut on her hand.

The Appellate Court found that the landlord was not liable for the injuries sustained by the young girl. The Court felt that the plaintiff failed to show that the owners of the property had knowledge of the existence of the defective condition of the door. The testimony indicated that the defendants had never witnessed the door closing in this fashion, nor had they received any complaints in that regard. In conclusion, the Appellate Court noted that a landlord will not be liable for injuries which are not reasonably foreseeable.

Vital link to river chain

Locks are engineering marvel

Locks No. 27 at the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal is a vital link to the southern Mississippi River and its tributaries south of St. Louis for thousands of river tows and other river traffic.

The locks here are also some of the largest in world, larger than any in the Panama Canal system. The main chamber is 1,200 feet long and the auxiliary chamber is 600 feet long. Both locks are 110 feet wide.

Visitors to the locks can view the locking process, which, considering the mechanics involved, is an almost unbelievable feat.

The locks raise or lower river traffic, depending on the direction of travel, and are necessary to maintain the 9-foot navigation channel in the river. The differential of the water level above and below the locks varies from 5 to 18 feet. The difference this week is about 8 feet.

When a southbound tow enters either lock, a lift gate is raised behind it, sealing the lock at the high water level. Then, through the use of valves (no pumps are used), more than 17 million gallons of water are let out of the chamber, lowering its level by the differential. Finally, two miter gates, each 70 feet high and weighing 206 tons, are opened and the tow continues southward, the whole process taking less than 10 minutes. The process is reversed for northbound traffic.

Taking seven years and $40 million to build, under the supervision of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers which also operates it, Locks No. 27 was open to river traffic Feb. 7, 1953. On Jan. 3 of this year, the locks surpassed 1.5 billion tons of cargo, including grain, fertilizer, oil products and other goods, it has locked through since it opened.

Its last locks river traffic must go through before continuing southward on the open navigation channel of the Mississippi River.

About 410,000 cubic yards of concrete and more than 5,000 tons of structural and reinforcing steel were used. There is enough electrical cable used to reach once around the world, about 24,000 miles. If set on end, the main lock would be taller than the Sears Tower in Chicago, the tallest building in the world.

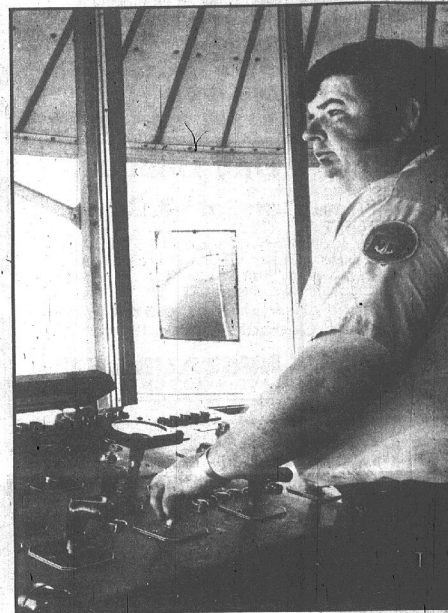

The visitors center, visited by more than 30,000 people each year, has on display a model of the Chain of Rocks Canal system and other displays detailing the Upper Mississippi River system and river navigation. It is open weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and there is no charge. The locks entrance is west of Illinois 3 or 1 West 20th Street.

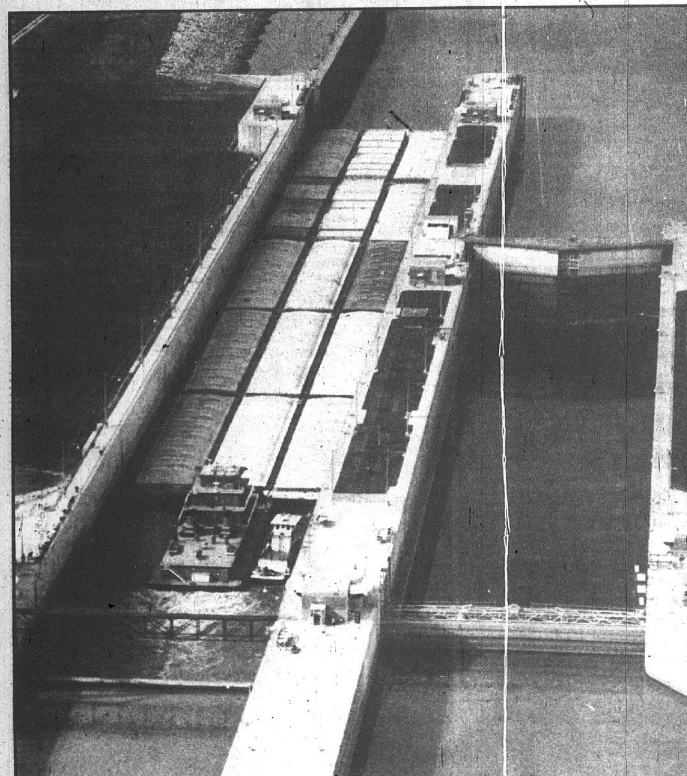

VISITORS ARE WELCOME to local facility.

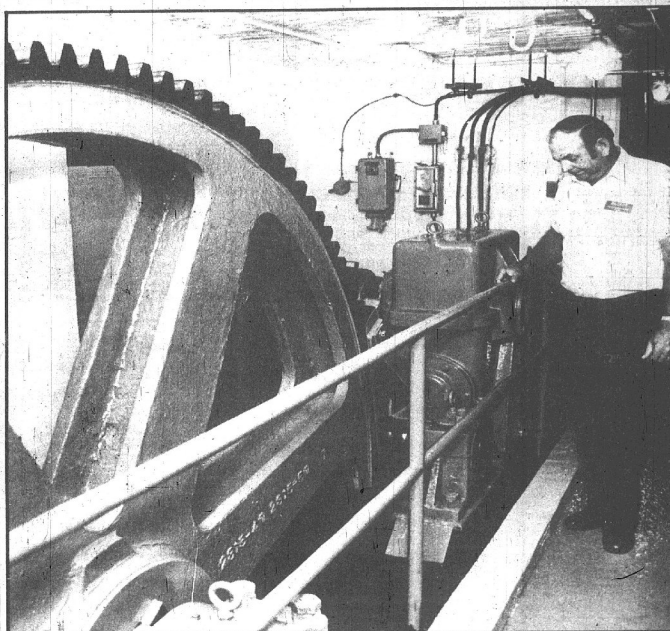

LOCKMASTER JEROME BECKER watches three southbound tows lock through Wednesday morning.

HEAD LOCK OPERATOR, Glenn Ashoff at the controls.

A FULL LOAD of 15 barges leave the main lock headed south.

Auction raises $265,000 for 9

The 1986 Channel 9 TV auction that ended April 20 raised $265,168 for KETC-TV, St. Louis' public television station. The 36-hour live auction is Channel 9's largest single fund-raising event and accounts for 7 percent of the station's budget.

Proceeds from the 10th annual auction will go toward program acquisition and station operating costs.

About 3,000 items were sold during the auction, which is organized by over 1,500 volunteers. "Thanks to our viewers and our volunteers, we've made the four-day auction a great success," said Michael Hardegrove, KETC president and general manager.

A 15-day cruise from Royal Viking Lines was sold for $5,500, the highest bid received during the 1986 auction. Other items included a 1966 classic Ford Thunderbird, which brought in $3,560, a live macaw parrot ($2,855) and a real 1940s railroad caboose ($855).

LIVER DAMAGE

Acetaminophen (TYLENOL, EXCEDIN, etc.) is exceptionally dangerous when taken with alcohol. Both are metabolized (broken down chemically) by the same liver cells. Taken together, they overload the liver, and excess alcohol attacks and destroys liver cells. Serious kidney damage can also result from unmetabolized alcohol. There is evidence of a tenfold increase in liver damage from alcohol taken with acetaminophen.

Ubaudi joins Bauer construction company

Bauer Bros. Construction Co., Inc., headquartered in Belleville, has formed a Light Commercial Construction Division, President John R. Bauer, said. John A. Ubaudi of Coltsville has been named manager of the new division. Previously, he was executive vice president of L. Wolf Co. of Granite City and before that he led the carpenters' union in the local area.

"The formation of the division and the hiring of Ubaudi, with his 30 years of construction experience, will make Bauer Bros. more competitive on even the smallest sized contracts," Bauer said. Projects undertaken by the division will include apartments, commercial renovations and industrial work.

State to get refund from 2nd oil firm

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan notified Gov. James R. Thompson this month of another legal victory won by Illinois against a major oil company. It brings the Illinois total in oil overcharge cases to $100 million.

The state will receive $4.5 million from an Amoco escrow fund of $30.9 million following a lawsuit in which the oil firm was alleged to have overcharged its customers. In April, Illinois received $96.1 million from Exxon Corp. in a $2.1 billion case.

"This represents an important victory, not only for Illinois, but for the entire country. Through our work with this office and other attorneys general, a substantial amount of money will be returned to the states and their customers," Hartigan said.

In a letter sent to the governor, Hartigan pledged his assistance in the determination of the use of the funds earmarked for Illinois.

The refund involved in the Amoco overcharge settlement, which was decided by the Office of Hearings and Appeals of the Department of Energy (DOE) on April 24, will be held by the U.S. until a plan for use of those funds is received and approved by DOE. The Amoco case follows a lawsuit against Exxon for overpricing crude oil. That settlement required that Exxon pay the federal government $2.1 billion in fines, the biggest judgment in U.S. history against a single defendant.
